Other Dignituries-Mr. Crowley's Real Name, as It Appears on the Invitation Cards-The Dead Chimpanzee, as He Is Set Up and as He Was Measured.

Evolutionists claim with much reason that there is but a missing link in the descent of man from the higher class of the monkey family, and in his lecture, lately published in THE EVENING WORLD, Dr. Vanderweyde pointed out that just in proportion to the ensmalling of the monkey's tail was the growth and strength of his brain.

CROWLEY AS HE IS.

One of the noblest of these improved though curtailed monks was the late Mr. Crowley, of Central Park. There was not the slightest hindrance to his sitting down, while Drs. Gottheil and Spitzka reported. after an autopsy, that the brain of the deceased showed a degree of development only second to that of man, and more perfect than the brain of an idiot.

Mr. Crowley's taxidermized person will be placed on exhibition this evening at the Museum of Natural History, the occasion of the formal opening of the Museum to the in-dustrial public during hours which the work-ing people can devote to scientific study and nt enjoyment.

Mr. Crowley is his own monument, so to speak, but he will, to future generations, be the mark denoting the advancement of the Museum to the place of a real public educa-

Museum to the place of a real public educational institution.

A recent biographer of Mr. Crowley, after long and patient research, was only able to say that "there is no positive evidence to show that he (Crowley) was actually born, or whether, like Topsy, he 'grow'd."

There was indubitable evidence that he was of some branch of the ancient and highly respectable chimpanzee family of Africa, but further than that no one could say, for from the very first he maintained deep silence as to his identity and was centent to die, as he had lived for four years in Central Park, as plain "Mr. Crowley."

But delving in musty books and papers Clerk Wallace has at last solved the mystery and has established beyond a peradventure the identity of Mr. Crowley with Anthropopitheeux (reglodyles.

This is the name which appears on the cards of invitation, some four hundred in number, which have been issued for a recep-tion to be given this evening at the Museum in connection with the unveiling of the in connection with the unveiling of the statue of Mr. Crowley.

The reception will be a swell affair, for Mayor Grant will be there, and Judge Draper and William E. Dodge. The Vanderbilts will be represented by Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt. Dr. Depew, D. O. Mills, Morris K. Jesup, Gen. di Cesnola, Supt. Conklin, of the Central Park Menagerie, and any number of noted people will be there, including President Edward Simmons and several members of the Board of Education, a number of the dignitaries of the decational deber of the dignitaries of the educational de-partments of many cities of this State and teachers in attendance on the Normal College

Prot. A. S. Bickmore has prepared an address for the occasion. It will be delivered in the lecture-room at the Museum. Its topic will be "Coal and Petroleum"—not a topic will be "Coal and Petroleum"—not a very relevant subject, to be sure, but calculated to inform the mind. It will be illustrated, and the Citizens' West Side Improvement Association will hear it in a body, after paying their respects to Mr. Crowley

Mr. Crowley will be assisted at the reception by several noblemen and remote kindred, including Mr. Brown Howler, of Brazil; Mr. More Monkey, of Java; Mr. Grand Galago, of East Africa; Mr. Avahi, of Madagascar, and the Misses Diana Monkey and Ureine Howler, of Liberia.

Mr. Crowley will receive his callers in the attitude depicted in the illustration above. The complacent smile on his handsome

The complacent smile on his handsome countenance is due to the consciousness that he is the acknowledged leader of the 400 in Botanic Balsam, Kinsman, 25th st. and 4th ave.

THE UNVEILING OF CROWLEY

the Museum collection of monkeys, the finest collection in the world.

This is a great distinction, when it is considered that Mr. Crowley is No. 1,502 in the animal collection as the register shows. It is almost as great a triumph for him as that achieved two years ago, when Mr. Barnum made a proposition to Supt. Conklin, whereby Mr. Crowley was to become an attraction of the menagarie of the former, who was to pay the plantaging of the former, who was to pay $5,000 down and $5,000 for every year of Mr.

the menagarie of the former, who was to pay $5,000 down and $5,000 for every year of Mr. Crowley's life, up to five years. Old admirers, lovers and carping critics have joined in saying that Taxidermist Jeness Biohadan have and McGordon and Company of the con-Richardson has made Mr. Crowley look as natural as life, and the devoted manipulator of skill is as proud as a boy with a pair of mew boots.

Mr. Crowley was ambidextrous, and while the rehabilitated Chimpanzee hangs by his right hand to a bough, his left is open, and in it will be placed a cocoanut, which he may it will be placed a cocoanut, which he may throw at some one, or may crack on the tree trunk and cat.

The taxidermized animal represents a deal of labor and careful study.

Mr. Richardson worked on him every day for seven weeks, and the job would be cheap at $200. Preparatory to the work Mr. Richardson had studied the living Crowley with careful eyes, and after death had claimed him he made exact measurements of every part. Crowley's chest measure was 28½ inches; depth of chest, 6½ inches; girth at the waist, 28 inches; length of trunk, 32 length of leg, 18½ inches; length of arm, length of leg, 185; inches; length of arm, 32% inches.

As he hangs on the tree he measures 73 inches from tip to toe, and when his joints were straightened Mr. Crowley, standing on terra firma, might have reached a cocoanut from a bough 6½ feet in the air.

Before removing the skin, Mr. Richardson made plaster casts of Mr. Crowley's members and a bust of the late lamented will be sent to each of the public museums and natural history collections of the country. His bones will be articulated by Prof. Ward at Rochester, and will be returned to grace another department of the collection at the Museum, under Prof. J. A. Allen, curator of mammals and birds.

department of the collection at the Museum, under Prof. J. A. Allen, curator of mammals and birds.

Mr. Crowley, as now seen, is mounted on a pedestal of polished cherry, and he is the finest specimen of his kind in the world.

Letters of regret at their inability to be present at the reception have been received from Mr. and Mrs. Rooney of the Cincinnati Zoo, and from a Mr. Chimpansee, of the Philadelphia collection, all of whom are playing on season contracts. Miss Kitty O'Brien, the affianced of the late Mr. Crowley, is so indisposed, owing to her long-continued mourning for Mr. Crowley, that she will be obliged to remain at her home in Central Park. These four are the only living countrymen of Mr. Crowley in America.

But Mr. Crowley, who is the nucleus about which Mr. Richardson hopes to gather z beautiful group of chimpanzees, will be found to-night at the left of the entrance to the birdroom at the Museum.

Miss Hutchins's Riding Accident.

Miss Alice Hutchins, the beautiful daughter f Treasurer Horace A. Hutchins, of the Standard Oil Company, who was thrown from her thorse while ruling in Central Park yesterday afternoon, is reported at the Windsor Hotel as doing nicely to-day. She is suffering from frac-tures o "lar-hone and left arm and severe nervou" Miss Untehins is an expert borsem. "Triends are unable to account Instal. " Kimball Post. Past Commana. of Dix's Post, assisted

y his staff, installllowing officers of E. R. : Commander, S. A. Kimball Post, 100, G. Cook; Senior Vice-Junior Vice-Commander, d. Marsh; Chap-lain, J. Hassall; Officer of the Day, E. A. Caster; Officer of the Guard, J. H. Edlin; Adutant, George D. Lowe; Quartermaster, W. H. Hix.

In the Steckler Association, at 83 East Fourth street, the following officers have been elected for the ensuing year: N. D. Nagelsmith, President; Herman Bleyer, First Vice-President; John Graham, Second Vice-President; Joseph Steiner, Secretary; Louis Frank, Treasurer, Julius Harburger was elected Chairman of the Entertainment Committee, and William E. Fay Chairman of the House Committee.

Harlem has a new social organization, the Merry Ten, which will hold its first reception at Brady's Hall, 135 and 137 West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street, Jan. 16. The officers: President, C. W. Haddon; Vice-President, Jo-seph Bostwick; Secretary, H. Oetjen, ir.; Treas-urer, James Loughran.

Sunkin.

[From Punch.] Pluckily done, and promptly! Here's a sample, Even in Egypt, of the way to win. Take, too long-halting statesmen, an example By that short, sharp half hour at Suakin!

Coming Events.

Annual invitation ball of the Athletes' League, at Nilsson Hall. Wednesday evening, Feb. 13. Installation ball, New York Lodge, No. 10, I. O. O. F., Monday evening, Jan. 14, at Arlington Hall.

ton Hall.

Annual ball of Court Good Hope, No. 7950,
A. O. F., Flynn's Hall, 1034 Tenth avenue,
Monday evening, Jan. 21.

Promenade and reception of the Southern Beneficial League, at Wendel's Assembly Rooms,
344 West Fourteenth street, Thursday, Jan. 19. Entertainment, hanquet and reception for the benefit of the Widows' and Orphans' Fund, under the ampices of Dirigo Lodge, No. 30, F. and A. M., at the Commandery Room, Masonic Temple, on Thursday evening, Jan. 10.

THE AUTOGRAPH CARD WRITTEN BY PRES-IDENT GARFIELD'S MURDERER.

Sullivan Says Mitchell Pulled His Mustache Out by the Roots in That Draw Fight-Kilrain's Kicking Scarcely Understood in Sporting Circles. An Alleged Prize Fight with No Prize.

Jimmy Wakely has in his possession a card which Charles Guiteau, the murderer of President James A. Garfield, wrote for him when he was on his way to see the fight between John L. Sullivan and Paddy Ryan. Guiteau was then in the jail at Washington, and Mr. Wakely, with several friends, called to see him. The prisoner wrote for Mr. Wakely on a card his own name, the place of writing and the date, Feb. 3, 1882. The card has been Mr. Wakely's mascot ever since. He has carried it with him wherever he has been, and says he will carry it with him on his trip to see Sullivan and Kilrain fight, if they ever do. He is not superstitious, but to lose the murderer's card would mean to him bad luck in his ventures.

John L. Sullivan's stay in New York was short, indeed. He came at 11.10 vesterday morning and left for Boston last night. During a conversation in the Illustrated News office, Sullivan answered several statements which Charley Mitchell made in regard to their draw fight abroad. When he was last in this city, Mitchell said that towards the end of the fight he took hold of Sullivan's mustache and pulled it playfully, and that as far as the statements about his having been chased by Sullivan all over the ring are concerned, the fact is that the last part was concerned, the fact is that the last part was fought within eight feet of Sullivan's corner, Sullivan said: "Mitchell did pull my mustache, and he pulled it out by the roots, which does not look very much like play. It is true that the last part of the fight was fought near my corner, and it was because that was the only place on which we could stand. We had been jumping around in the middle of the ring and made it nothing less than a mud-hole. My corner was dry, and we stood near it. Charley Mitchell is a shrewd fellow and he will not fight me again, I am sure." Sullivan Charley Mitchell is a shrewd fellow and he will not fight me again. I am sure." Sullivan spoke of young Mitchell, of California, in words of praise, and said it is his candid opinion that he will do Sailor Brown up, if they meet. The big fellow is looking in better health than he did when he was here a few weeks ago. He is confident that he will be as well as he ever was when he meets Kilrain, which meeting, by the way, he thinks is doubtful. He has not yet decided upon any place in which to train, but will begin his preparations for the fight in May, and will proceed to the vicinity of the battle-ground at least a month before the date of fighting.

the date of fighting. Kilrain's statement made to THE EVENING Worlp's correspondent at Albany and printed in the Sporting Extra yesterday was printed in the Sporting Extra yesterday was indeed a stunner. It is a little early in the game to show the white feather, and it could scarcely be comprehended here. Sullivan was as much puzzled by it as any one, and he could only account for it by declaring, as he has done many times before, that "Kilrain is no good anyway." Jake will be here in a day or two and may have more to say about the articles of agreement which he criticises, Jack Delancey, of this city, and Jack Burke, of Brooklyn, had an alleged prize-fight last night, which was ended in the fourth round, esteusibly by a blow from Delancey's left on Burke's jaw, but in reality by the meagre financial inducements for a genuine, honest battle. Delancey was seconded by Billy Dacey and Pete Lally, of Boston; Burke by Tom Flood and Jack Murray, and J. P. Eckhardt was referee. Burke did not fight with any determination and was given a bloody nose in the second round, after which he danced about, making no effort to do Delancey any damage, and when in the fourth round Delancey lended lightly his right in the stomach and a left-handed upper cut on his jaw, he dropped and would not get up, notwithstanding the appeals of his seconds. Neither man was hurt. About twenty-five men paid a dollar hurt. About twenty-five men paid a dollar each to see the affair.

A despatch from San Francisco, received in this city yesterday, says that unauthorized persons have been sending out offers from the California Athletic Club for Eastern men to tight Jackson, the Australian champion.

President Fulda, it is said, is the only person who has authority to make arrangements for matches with Jackson, in the name of the Club, and the $6.000 offered is only for a fight between Jackson and either Kilrain or Sullivan.

Schroop and his wife murdered Schilling and put him in the sack.

Alfred Graham, a released lunatic, beats his old mother to death with a club at Tygart, W.Va.

Complaint is made in the Reichstag that fight between Jackson and either Kilrain or Sullivan.

A force of military superintends more evictions

Jimmy Wakely is the man who suggested a fight between Jack Dempsey and Charley Mitchell in the same ring which is planned for Sullivan and Kitrain, and immediately after their battle, which suggestion was published in this column a week ago. Mr. Wakely said yesterday that he would back Dempsey in a fight with Mitchell for $5,000 a side, under the same conditions as the match between the two disputing champions.

To-night is the time announced for the fight between Billy Mahan, light-weight champion of the Pacific slope, and George Mulholland.

A SPORT'S QUEER MASCOT. light-weight champion of Australia, for $500 and Mahan's present title, under the management of the Golden Gate Athletic Club.

The Ravenswood Boat Club has decided to send crews to all the regattas in the vicinity of New York during the coming season. Messrs. Buschmann and Platt have been chosen to represent the Club in the double-sentl event at the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen. The following officers have been elected: President, W. F. Hendrickson: Vice-President, C. T. Duffy; Treasurer, J. Creter; Secretaries, H. Wiencke and M. Murphy: Captain, J. Monaghan; Licutenant, E. J. Fox.

At the annual meeting of the Pastime Athletic Club the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, James E. Sullivan: Vice-President, Dan Bell: Treasurer, W. H. Robertson: Recording Secretary, Harry Demse: Financial Secretary, Sam Cramer: Assistant Financial Secretary, M. C. Steinrich: Captain. P. H. O'Keefe: Lieutenant, Matthew T. Nagle. The following members were elected on the Games Committee: A. J. Murberg, J. Moran, Burns, Huger and J. Robinson.

One Interested.—The managers of Jockey Charley Ossler's benefit, to be given in Hud-son Hall, Hoboken, Jan. 15, are J. P. Eck-hardt and D. Parker. They have the arrange-ments in charge and are being assisted by Ocalest's friendle ments in charge Ossler's friends.

Tammany in the Fourteenth. The Tammany Hall General Committee of the Fourteenth Assembly District has organized for the year 1880 with the following officers: Chairman, Henry Bischoff, jr.; Vice-Chairmen, Edward J. Hure, Carles Goeller, Edward Costello; Secretaries, James A. Hanley, Frank McNicol; Treasurer, Percy Rockwell; Sergeant-at-arms, Patrick Brady; Member of Executive Committee, John Reilly.

To Make the Insane Happy.

Denman Thompson and the principal members of "The Old Homestead" Company visit Blackbeen made to give an entertainment in the hall of the Insane Asylum. They will sing and re-cite, and after the programme is concluded they will sit down to lunch, and then return to New York in time for to-night's performance at the Academy. well's Island to-day, where arrangements have Taking His Sons to Europe.

Among the passengers by the steamship Arions, which sailed vesterday for Liverpool, was York Furniture Company. Mr. Jeffcott, President of the New York Furniture Company. Mr. Jeffcott has re-cently met with a sad bereavement in the death of his estimable wife, and he now visits Europe with his two sons for the benefit of their health.

Benefit to Michael O'Donnell. A benefit will be tendered at Bruning's Hall, 206 East Eighty-sixth street, Saturday evening Jan. 19, by friends and business associates, to Michael O'Donnell, of 214 East Eighty-fourth street, who is lying dangerously ill, and who has a large family depending on him for sup-

> Want of Tact. [From Time.]

Garraway (just back from Paris)-Do you know can't enjoy a single thing since I left dear Parce! Hollison (who has just paid the dinner check) —Say, Victor, let's make this a Dutch treat.

News Summary.

A bomb is exploded by a revolutionist in the royal palace at Madrid. An electoral reform bill is introduced in the New Jersey Legislature, based on the Australian system of voting.

The residence of Vice-President Thomson, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, is destroyed by fire. A Philadelphia coroner's jury finds that Schroop and his wife murdered Schilling and

A force of military superintends more evictions on Col. Tottenham's estate at County Wicklow. Several alarming earthquake shocks are felt in Southern Illinois. Ed. Stark was blowing in the muzzle of his gun at Corydon, Ind., when his dog brushed its tail against the trigger, discharging the gun and blowing the top of Stark's head off.

Literary Notes.

Mr. T. B. Aldrich is reported to have the most imbitious story of his life in course of prepara-

Miss Bancroft and Miss Butler Caused All

Mrs. Potter evidently is not afraid of bard work. She and her company rehearsed 'Antony and Cleopatra' with undaunted energy from 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon until 3 o'clock Monday morning, and again from 8 o'clock Monday night until 3 o'clock yesterday morning. There were one or two little "roughnesses," but these are generally to be found at even last rehearsals.

A little amusement was caused by the scanty costumes of Miss Bancroft and Miss Butler. One or two people who were looking on burst into laughter when those ladies ao. peared in their fleshings. Kyrle Bellew seemed perplexed. He was obliged to admit that Miss Bancroft and Miss Butler might wear a little more with advantage.

"What would you suggest?" he asked of what would you suggest?" he asked of the lookers.on.

"A scarf." said one.
"Something—anything," said another.
Mr. Bellew agreed to profit by this advice, and the rehearsal then went on. Every one who sees a rehearsal wonders how things can possibly settle themselves satisfactorily at the first performance. The last rehearsal of "Antony and Cleopatra" was certainly calculated to call forth this wonder.

Four co.nely maidens have been engaged to play the parts of the school gris in Johnny Wild's play, "Running Wild," which opens at the Star Theatre Jan. 21. These are Miss May Sherwood, Miss Nellie Sherwood, Miss Percy Haswell and Muss Lottie Hyde.

Miss Bessie Fairbairn, formerly of the Dunlap Opera Company, is to play the part of the Queen in that classical thing of beauty known as "Zo-Zo."

Mrs. Langtry's dress, used in the first act of "A Wife's Peril," cost £300. It was originally made for the Duchess of Something. There was a death in that lady's family and Mrs. Langtry, seeing the dress, said to the artist: "If she doesn't take it I will." She didn't take it, and Mrs. Langtry did.

All the bric-a-brae and dainty little articles All the bric-a-brac and dainty little articles used on the stage of the Fifth Avenue at present are from Mrs. Lanetry's own drawing-room in West Twenty-third street. Imagine Mrs. Lanetry in her $1,500 dress directing the scene people how to arrange things, with a big white apron conceating her costly clothes. That is what she did. There is no detail too small to interest her.

Here is a question that is interesting the people engaged in discussing the American versus foreign actor topic: Will Sarah Bernhardt, when she comes over here, be obliged to engage her company in South rifth ave-nue, and must German stars "support" themselves from Avenue B?

The benefit to A. R. Cazauran will take place at Palmer's Theatre to-morrow after-noon. There will be a pletbora of attractions, Mrs. Potter and Kyrle Bellew will appear in the balcony scene from "Romeo and Juliet," and Miss Fanny Davenport and her company in the third act of "La Tosca."

Alexander Comstock, of the Academy, says he has an "idee" that will crowd the Acad-emy of Music Sunday night as "The Old Homestead" crowds it during the week. The idea is not yet ripe for "springing."

Victor Reaser.—Your coins are worth their face value and no more. Ret-Teit File.—Gov. Hill got 15,668 votes more than were given for Cleveland in this State.

Constant Reader. -- The City Paymaster has begun paying off inspectors and is quite for you.

for you.

A. D'E.—Starley was a newspaper reporter and correspondent before he became an African explorer. He is the author of the books published under his name.

Liber.—Apply at the Aguilar Free Library Society, 7:11 Lexington avenue; the Apprentices Library, 18 East Sixteenth street; the Broome Street Free Library, 3:11 Broome street, or the New York Free Library, 1:35 Second avenue; 4:40 Bond street, 2:51 West Thirteenth street and 2:26 West Forty-second street.

From Dakota.

DEAR SIRE: For a long time I have suffered from the effects of indigestion and sick headache, and on trying your Dn. C. McLane's Calendared Liven Pills 1 found quick and satisfactory relief. A very few doses does the work, and I would not be without them.

Siouz_Falls, Dakota. GEO. H. HARRIS.

pepsia, heartburn, indigestion, malaria, pimples on face and body, impure blood, &c., by using regularly Dr. C. McLank's Gelebrated Liven Pills, prepared only by Fleming Bros., Pittsburg, Pa. Price, 25 cents. Sold by all druggists. Insist upon having the genuine Dn. C. Edgar Fawcett's new story. 'The Great White Emerald,' published in its entirety, with illustrations by Matt Morgan, in the current Once a Week, is one of the hits of the season.

Melane's Liven Fills, prepared by Fleming Brea., Palishurg, Pa., 'on the warper work of the same Melane, spelled differently, but of the same promunication. Always make sure of the words.' Fleming Brea., Pittsburg, Pa., 'on the warper.

Dimes and Opera-Glasses,

The new automatic opera-glasses were placed in the Academy of Music and were used last evening for the first time. The invention is a and pushing a spring, the front of the box falls, a pair of French opera-glasses are exposed to the Trouble—A Problem as to Sarah Bernhardt and German Stars—Mrs.

Langtry's "Wife's Peril" Dress—A. R.
Cazauran's Benefit.

Mrs. Potter evidently is not afraid of bard ork. She and her company rehearsed Antony and Cleopatra" with undaunted Antony and Cleopatra" with undaunted

a pair of French opera-glasses are exposed to Yell, and the potter of the boxes were placed in position for last night's performance, and more will be added to sky. When the boxes are all in position there will be over a thousand in the house.

His Manager Comstock's intention to have 612 on the orchestra floor, 254 in the first balcony and 104 in the second.

There will be a slight slight delay in completing the work, as the hands engaged in manufacturing the boxes experience considerable trouble in lining the boxes.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF PURE COD LIVER OIL

AND HYPOPHOSPHITES

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

Containing the stimulating properties of the Hypophosphiles combined with the Futtening and Strengthening qualities of Cod Liver Oil the potency of both being largely increased.

A Remedy for Consumption. For Wasting in Children. For Scrofulous Affections. For Anamia and Debility.

For Coughs, Colds & Throat Affections. In fact, ALL discuses where there is an inplanmation of the Throat and Lungs, a WASTING OF THE FLESH, and a WANT OF NERVE POWER, nothing in the world equals this palatable Emulsion.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

The HANKS Co.

DENTISTS.

Extracting, 25c.; with GAS, 50c. Sets, 85, 85 and 810. Soft filling, 50c. up. gold filling, $1 up. 203 6TH AVE., 2D DOOR BELOW 14TH.

PEERLESS DYES Are the BEST.

BROOKLYN AMUSEMENTS. H. R. JACOBS'S BROOKLYN THEATRE.

Matinees THIS WEEK,
Monday,
Wednesday,
Saturday,
The lesst reserved seats in the house, 50c.
PRICES Matinees, 15, 20 and 30.2 NO HIGHER.
Next Week—Kimball Merrie Makers in Mamzelle. COL. SINN'S PARK THEATRE.

This Week, Matines Saturday, DAVENPORT THE R. JACOBS'S NEW LYCEUM THEATRE
Priors JOSEPH CLIFFORD'S Matiness Monday, Wednesday, Sale Tom'S CABIN, Wednesday, Natureday.

LEE AVE. ACADEMY OF MUSIC. Brooklyn.E.D.
This Week. Matiness Wednesday and Saturday.
W.J. SUANIAN.
Mon., Tues., Wed. Mat. and Night—Shane Na Laun.
Thurs., Fri. Nat. Mat. and Night—The Irish Minstrel.
Next Week. Hopt & Thomas, TIN SOLDIER.

AMPHION ACADEMY, Knowles & Morris, Every Night, Wednesday and Saturday Matiness. Roland Reed in The Woman Hater. ZIPP'S CASINO. | Concerts Nightly.
THIS WEEK Matine Saturday.
Byron Quartet, T. O. Richmond, T. V. Palmer, J. P.
O'Keete, J. R. Homer, Jas. J. Britton, Fenz Bros., Mau
Melville, Ders Raymond and Minnis Schult

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE Knowles & Morris, Every Night, Wednesday and Saturday Matinees. Evans & Hoey in A Parlor Match.

AMUSEMENTS.

WORTH'S OSSIFIED MUSEUM.
LIVING JABBERWOK MAN. 12 MEN.
See Serpent. MAN. 12 MEN.
Admission, 10c. Bene from head to foot

THE OLD HOMESTEAD.

STAR THEATRE Broadway and 13th st. LOUIS JAMES MARIE WAINWRIGHT in a brilliant reportation. LA TOSCA.

A MBERG THEATRE Irring Place. Every evening Junkermann. To-night, Onkel Braesig: Thurs., Aus der Franzosenzeit and Jochem Passel; Friday, Bemoorte Haupt. Sat., Hasemanna Toechier.

AMUSEMENTS.

TONY PASTOR'S THEATRE MR. BELLEW YERT MUCH EMBARRASSED small metal box attached to the back of each scat. By dropping a 10-cent piece in the slot THURSDAY AFTERNOON, JAN. 10, 1889,

Benefit to the Widow and Children of the late

T. M. HENGLER. FORMERLY DELEHANTY & HENGLER.

DOCKSTADER'S MINSTRELS. TONY PASTOR'S COMPANY. LONDON THEATRE COMPANY. HYDE SPECIALTY COMPANY. MINER'S THEATRE COMPANY. LESTER WILLIAMS COMPANY.

PRICES AS USUAL.

Casino BROADWAY AND 30TH ST.
Last Weeks
OF GILBERT & SULLIVAN'S THE YEOMEN OF THE GUARD

HARRIGAN'S PARK THEATRE.

M. W. HANLEY
SECOND MONTH. ZENITH OF SUCCESSES
A DELIGHTED AUDIENCE NIGHTLY WITHESSES
THE LORGAIRE. WEDNESDAY MATINEE SATURDAY.

BIJOUTHEATRE. Broadway, near 30th st. MATINEER WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY. RICE & DIXEYS sumptions production of Charles Alfred Byrne's Chinese Comic Opera, PEARL OF PEKIN

LOUIS HARRISON and 60 artists. RAND OPERA HOUSE.

Reserved Seate Orthestra Circle and Balcony, 50a
M. PALMEU'S PARTNERS. Seaturday Matines,

Next Week-ROLAND REED.

Next Sunday PARIS, the Magnificent City, by PROF. CROMWELL. TONY PASTOR'S NEW 14TH ST. THEATRE.
TONY TONY PASTOR'S.
TONY PASTOR'S.
Combined with TONY PASTOR'S.
MORAN & THOMAS'S MINSTRELS.
MATINEES TUESDAY AND PRIDAY.

STANDARD THEATRE. COMIC OPERA.
Every Evening at S. Saturday Matines at 2.
J. C. Duff's Comic Opera Company in THE QUEEN'S MATE Seats may secured two weeks ahead.

PALMER'S THEATRE. BROADWAY & SOTH ST. accompanied by Mr. KYRLE BELLEW, in ANTONY AND CLEOPATRA.

MADDON NOUARE THEATRE. Sole Manager
Evenings at 8:30. Saturday Matines, 2.30.

Month. GAPTAIN SWIFT. Superior to Month. "A GREAT SUCCESS."—World.

NATS. WED. AND SAT. NIBLO'S.

Reserved Seats. Orchestra Circle & Balcony, 50c.

LAST WEEK IN NEW YORK THIS SEASON.

5TH AVE THEATRE, EVGS AT S. SAT. MAT., 2) MRS. LANGTRY and company in a grand revival of A WIFE'S PERIL.

, Jan. 14—MRS. LANGTRY in MACBETH,

MINER'S PEOPLE'S THEATRE.

M HARRY LAND AND THE STILL ALARM BY JOSEPH ARTHUR.

BATTLE ONE WEEK MORE Of the CHARLE ONE WEEK MORE OF THE CHARLE ON WEEK MORE OF THE CHARLE OF TH 10th st. & 4th ave. Daily. J. M. HILL, Manager DOCKSTADER'S. MATINEES WEDNESDAY SECOND AND LAST WEEK. KITTY.
MESTAYER VAUGHN CO.
Neat week the farcical success, "FASHIONS,"

THE GRAND
Museum, Menageric and Moral Theatre,
345 and 147 GRAND 8T.
Veritable Living Centaur, 19 Man, 14 Horse,
Mrs. Gen. Tom Thumb. Stage Performances, 10 cents.

THEATRE COMIQUE, 1.55th st., bet. 3d & Lex. ave.
In his home EVERYBODY'S FAVORITE,
comedy MR. GUS WILLIAMS.
REPLER'S FORTUNES,
Next week—Howard Athenseum Specialty Company. WINDSORTHEATRE BOWERY, NEAR GANAL America's Favorite, CLARA MORRIS, Matines on RENEE DE MORAY STATEMENT OF THE STATEMENT OF T

BROADWAY THEATRE. Corner 41st at ADMISSION 50c.

H R. JACOBS'S ED AVE. THEATRE.
MAILINES Monday, Wednesday and Saturday, FAMOUS SATIRE,
Jan 14 - J. B. POLK in MIXED PICKLISS. H. R. JACOBS'S (THALIA)
OLD BOWERY THEATRE,
MATINEES MONDAY, WEDNESDAY and SAT.
JAN. 14-UNCLE TOM'S CABIN.

KOSTER & BIAL'S CONCERT HALL.

Pettengill, Emilie Sells, Jas. R. Adams, WEDNESDAY MATINEE SATURDAY. LYCEUM THRATRE, LAYENDER:
The Great London and New York Success.

EDEN MUSEE NIGHT.

THE RUSSIANS.

STORY EVER PUBLISHED IN EXTRAORDINARY AMERICA MOST

Will Begin in "The Evening World," Monday, Jan. 14.

THE LOST BRIDE

A Story of To-Day.

COMPLETE IN THREE CHAPTERS.

BY CEORCE R. SIMS, Author of "The Lights o' London," &c.

SYNOPSIS OF CHAPTERS I.-II. After an exceedingly brief acquaintance Tobias Jones, a wealthy widower of sixty years, marries Leonora Dairguple, aged twenty-two. The marriage is private, to avoid possible interference from Jones's children. The pair start for Paris on their bridal tour. When the etsamer arrives at Calais the bride is missing from the private stateroom. So is a dressing-case containing jewels valued at 5,000 pounds, a wedding gift from her huchand. After a thorough search Mr. Jones returns to Loudon, where he finds that Leonors's only relative, an aunt, has also disappeared, leaving numerous bills unpaid. Mr. Jones receives bills contracted by 'Mrs Tobias Jones,' which he pays in silence. Six months pass, when Mr. Jones meets a friend from Leeds, a Mr. Oldroyd, who talls him a pathetic atory of how he saved a young girl from marrying a money-lender, Julius Moss, to whom her father owed 2,000 pounds, the amount of a forged note, and who demanded her hand as the price of his silence.

marry, and I felt a little ashamed of confessing to my friends that at my age I was about to unite myself to a girl young enough to be my daughter. So I loaded my darling with presents and asked her if she would mind a quiet wedding and a nice long honeymoon abroad. She expressed herself as quite contended; but when she confided to me with a blush that she was fraid she would not be able to make a very grand appearance at first. Very pretainly, very modestly, she let me know that she was too poor to buy a smitable trousseau, and so I ordered everything for her gave ler"

The trail in Paris which is reported in Younge, exclaimed Mr. Jones, "This trail in Paris which is reported in Younge, exclaimed Mr. Jones, or Younge, exclaimed Mr. Jones, and the least of the same alternatives, which she same alternatives, will a sasisted the price of this reported in Younge, exclaimed Mr. Jones, or Younge at the least, "This trail in Paris which is reported in Younge, exclaimed Mr. Jones, or Younge, exclaimed Mr. Jones, or Younge, exclaimed Mr. Jones, or What Presents and the work of this advantage over me. Your marriage was the least, "In the least," or the visual paris police were and the visual paris police were the days and the least, "This trail in Paris which is reported in Younge and the visual paris police were and the visual paris police were the days and the least, "This trail in Paris which is reported in Younge and the work of the same alternation. The laries of the same alternation of the same alternation. The laries of the same alternation of the same alternation of the same alternation. The laries of the police were over me. Your marriage was the least of the police were control of the very grand appearance at first. Very pret-tily, very modestly, she let me know that she was too poor to buy a suitable trousseau, and so I ordered everything for her—gave her carte blanche to obtain all she wanted so that we might be away six months.
"We were married very quietly at a little church, and we were to return to the hotel, where all her trunks, &c., were packed and ready: and after a quiet 'uncheon, together with the old lady, her relative, and a friend of mine, who had been my best man, we were to start on our frip.

"Then there happened the most astonishing thing. We drove back to the hotel, we were shown into a room where the luncheon was prepared, and my bride left us to give a few directions to her newly engaged maid,

"I BANG THE BELL."

there was no longer any doubt in Tobias's mind. 'My dear fellow," he exclaimed. 'this is marry, and I felt a little ashamed of confess. the maid, and I am a married man without a right. These two old gentlemen had both world would have to know that he had made a fool of himself not only in marrying so young a woman, but in harrying a woman who was simply a female swindler on a large scale.

"We won't decide off-hand," he said. 'We'll think it over, my friend, we'll think

"We'll think it over, my friend, we'll think it over."

They did think it over, and as a first step they tried to find Mr. Mo s, and failed utterly. He, of course, was in the swindle. He was a lover invented for the purposes of the comedy, and the forged bill which Mr. Oldroyd had purchased had probably been drawn and accepted by Mr. Moss himself or by some confederate.

The old friends met again and again and started various little schemes, but more of them were successful in offering an elucidation to the mystery. Still they hesitated to go to the police and tell their story. The dread of exposure, the fear of making themselves the laughing-stock of their friends and relatives, held them back.

What they would ultimately have done in order to arrive at a correct understanding of order to arrive at a correct understanding of their matrimental predicament it is impossi-ble to say. They were saved all further trouble in the matter by some one else taking

"Seen what?" exclaimed Mr. Jones.

had been charged with swindling an elderly French Baron by obtaining money and jew-elry from him on the pretense that she would become his wife, and had left him immedihad assisted her in her nefarious plans and lady had not confined her field of operations to one country, as letters were found which related to adventures in England and Belgium.

The French Baron's case, however, was sufficient for the purposes of the French police. The swindle in his case was proved to the hilt, and the fair adventuress was on the strength of it sentenced to a long term of imprisonment.

the strength of it sentenced to a long term of the strength of it sentenced to a long term of imprisonment.

Putting this and that together Mr. Oldroyd and Mr. Jones knew beyond the possibility of a doubt that the French Baron's fisir deceiver was the young lady they had both of them married and tost on their wedding day, and they agreed, after long and earnest conversation, that as nothing was to be gained by their coming forward to advertise themselves as victims the best thing they could do was to lock up the secret of their extraordinary matrimonial adventures within their own breasts and to be more careful how they yielded to the blandishments of young females in distress in the future.

They have only one regret, which is that the young lady's lawful husband, Mr. Julius Moss, has not also been called upon to answer for his share in the transaction, for they both of them feel confident that the bulk of the money of which they were exploited had found its way into his possession, and that Mrs. Moss, when she has finished her term of imprisonment, will have sufficient to live upon comfortably for the rest of her days—that is, unless Mr. Moss takes advantage of his good lady's absence and goes off with the lot. In that case, a lady so skilled in the art of leading old gentlemen on to pop the question will probably get married a few times more, and disappear on each wedding-day with what may be vulgarly, but expressively, described as "the sway."

[THE END.]

CHAPTER III.

THE LOST BRIDE GETS LOST ONCE-TOO OFTEN.

"The coarseness of the fellow's proposition shocked me," continued Mr. Jones's friend as he related his remarkable experience, "but I was compelled to return to the young lady and inform her of the result of my interview.

"I found her awaiting me at her relative's house. If I had thought her beautiful before, I thought her still more beautiful one that I saw her flushed with hope, trembling with excitement, awaiting the result of my mission. I can't tell you how it happened, but before I left the house I had asked her if I freed her from this odious person she would be my wife, and with tears of grati-"My dear fellow," he exclaimed, "this is a very extraordinary and a very dreadful affair. The young woman you have married is my wife!"

"What!"

Mr. Oldroyd almost leaped out of his chair with astonishment.

But when Tobias had confided to his friend his own strange matrimonial experience, Mr. Oldroyd was convinced that his friend was

"The young woman you have married in the matter by some one else taking the initiative. The remaining money and jew-elvy from him on the pretense that she would become his wife, and had left him immediately after the ceremony, taking with her the property out of which she had swindled th